

Changing locations

If you've changed your mind about the areas you'd like to live in, don't worry, it's easy to update!

Go to www.homeswapper.ie and login, then hover over My details at the top of the screen and click on The home I want

Deleting locations

You'll find yourself on the page where you first chose the areas you wanted to live in. Here you'll see all the locations that you've saved as areas that you'd like to live in

To delete any of these locations, simply click on the red minus symbol next to it

Add another location

If your options have opened up and you want to add more locations, you can also do this here

Click on the option that says, 'Add another location' and start typing the name of the place - options will then appear that you can click on

You'll now need to choose the distance you're happy to live from this area and click on 'Save location'

Remember: the larger the distance, the more matches you'll get!

Map view

You also have the option here to choose your locations from a map. To do this, click on the map symbol next to where you've typed the location

A map view will open up and in this screen, you'll see a purple circle with a pin in the middle

The pin is the location you selected from the previous screen and the circle shows the distance around that particular area that you'll see matches for

Using the + and – symbols in the top left corner of the map, you can zoom in and out to find the exact location you want

Click and hold the pin in the middle of the circle to drag it around the map until you land on the location you'd like to live in

When you've finished making changes, make sure you click on the purple 'Next' button – this will save your changes

It's important to do this because if not, any changes you've made will be lost!
